

ARI BROJDE

Ari Brojde is the founder and CEO of Estateably, a DLT-powered software platform that is working to solve the most critical issue in estate settlement: how to get beneficiaries their inheritances faster while maintaining strict regulatory and procedural compliance with the estate laws and statutes of the jurisdictions in which it operates. Ari spent more than a decade working as a private wealth manager for two of Canada's largest financial institutions before founding Onist, the world's first virtual family office platform, in late 2014. In addition to his leadership role at Estateably, Ari currently serves as the Montreal Chapter President of the Government Blockchain Association, an international non-profit that is committed to helping government and public sector professionals to understand, implement and benefit from blockchain related technologies and capabilities.
