

Peter Maoloni
VP, Digital Products and Services

Peter heads the product platforms and services team at Interac, which includes Interac Debit, Interac Flash, Interac TSP, and Interac e-Transfer. He is also responsible for carrying out the Interac faster payments strategy by using the success of Interac e-Transfer in retail business to lay the foundation for Canada's Real-Time Rail. His expert knowledge of global payments standards, payment modernization, payment risk and customer authentication make him a leading authority on topics such as interoperability, real time rails, payment risk mitigation and payment liability models. An Interac veteran, Peter started out in the Cyber Security team and now 19 years later he is leading the strategy and vision for Interac's product management and platform development.
