

Geoff Moysa is a Partner in McMillan's Advocacy & Litigation group in Toronto, Canada, and a member of its Automotive Group. He has expertise in complex litigation including class action defence, product liability defence, franchise and distribution disputes and international arbitrations. Geoff regularly acts for and advises automotive manufacturers on matters ranging from dealer disputes to product liability claims and regulatory issues.