Thomas Prowse is Senior Legal Counsel with QNX Software Systems Limited, an Ottawa based BlackBerry subsidiary. Before joining QNX in 2015, Thomas practiced technology law with the Prowse Technology Law Office. Prior to launching his law firm in 2012, he was Intellectual Property Counsel with GENBAND, a global leader of Internet Protocol infrastructure and service solutions. Before joining GENBAND in 2010, Thomas was a partner with Gowlings Kanata Technology Law Office with a practice focused on technology law and technology-related commercial matters. Prior to re-joining Gowlings in 2007, Thomas was Senior Counsel with Nortel where he provided legal support to product development organizations. He worked extensively on Open Source Software matters during his 13 year tenure at Nortel and was the Global Law Department leader in this area. Thomas was selected by his peers to be included in the 2010 and 2011 editions of The Best Lawyers in Canada in the Technology Law specialty. His in-house counsel, private practice, and government policy experience equip him to provide practical, timely, and concise legal advice grounded in his understanding of the business and technological challenges faced by companies today.
